RUFUS KING & CO. Margarder, Aug. 20.

The Anti-Catholic Test in New Hampshire. "Oh! it is sport to see the Engineer" " thist with his own petard!" The Morning News of yesterday was afflicted with a fresh spasm in regard to the Anti-Catholic Test in the Constitution of New Hampshire. Having, in its own judgment, repeatedly and satisfactorily sattled this question in favor of Mr. fogy, voted against the bill, as aid the democratic Figure and the New Hampshire "democracy," it is provoked beyond measure at the pertinacity with which a few incredulous Whige still adhere I the owner, can assume party in Areio erly a prominent democrat in New Hampshire, in roces the New Hampshi Statutelouk, no man who represents that party can rightfully, or reasonably claim the suffrages either of Catholic, or Protestant friends of Religious Liberty and Equal Rights. Its indignation is especially moved, just now, because Mr. William E. Romsson, a well-known Irishman, has gone into an elaborate investigation of the whole matter and has ventured to publish the results of that inquiry in a speech addressed, as well to Native, and Alorsed Ciliague of the Republic For this and truth as well as in name." as to Adopted Citizens of the Republic. For this offence, Mr. Rosinson is visited with the special censure of the News and kindred prints, and is held dp, in their refined phraseology and with their accustomed factics, as "an Irish Orangeman, a felse Catholic, and a renegade Democrat.",

This is the same spirit in which the News stigmatized Mr. Rossler, the accomplished editor of the German Scott paper in this city, as a "vain, ignorant; obscure ass," and in which the Volksfraund denounced those of its countrymen, who in the exercise of their right of free thought and nce speech, had dared to declare in favor of Win-FIELD Scort, as "a dozen of misled ignorants." ... It is the spirit of narrow bigotry and political proceculation; the spirit that would deprive those very adopted citizens of their political rights for during to exercise these rights independently; the very spirit which calracises the Catholic in New Hampshire for opinion's sake. Nor is this all .-The very fact that the Pierce papers seek to blacken said defame William E. Robinson for his telling speech is the best possible evidence that it udmits of no other answer. Were its statements false, were its inferences unfounded, were its ar- offered, and an American Senate ontertained and guments and illustrations susceptible of relutation, the Loco Foco organs and orators would spend no time, or breath upon the man, but proceed at once to answer and demolish the speech. That task, however, being too great even for their Herculean powers of misrepresentation, they resort to the only weapons left them, malignant personal abuse and detraction. In so doing they only betray the weakness of their cause and bear involuntary but significant witness to the truth of Mr. Hosinson's facts and figures. He is above the seach of their noisoned shafts. What, indeed, is the head and front of the of-sence for which they thus anothernatize him? And proof of this. Can the Standard point us to a who originated the very discussion in which he single one that disproves it? Got. Seward on the New York Tritone.

Washington, Aug 15, 1652.

Gov. Seward spoke on the fishery difficulties, exocosifully defending the Administration and partly Mr. Webster, and asserted that it wanted neither firmness nor boldness in asserting American rights, and that it has deservedly gained the confidence of the commercial and conservative classes of the country. The speech abounds with face, figures, arguments, and eloquence, and its effect was marked and impressive. It proposes the raising of a Committee or Commission to servace our fishermen all their present, with enlarged privileges, through reciprocal legislation, either with the British Parliament or Provinces.

Mr. Webster acknowledged this defense of himself and exposition of the subject in a sincere and highly complimentary note to Gev. Seward.

Incondiary Fires in Baltimore.—Firemens' Riols.
—Three fires occured in this city last night, all of which are traced to incendiaries. The first fire consumed seven small dwelling houses on Harrisbury street—the second a small school-house near Canton; and the third a stable on Schroeder street.

The firemen were rioting all night in various sections of the city. The Columbian engine was taken from her company by the Vigilant boys, and thrown into the falls. Guns were fired, stones thrown, and many persons scriously injured. The Michael and the Palagezo, two of our meat orderly fire-companies, were attacked by the rowdies, and one of their members—Mr. John Gregory, was afterwards found lying on the walk with 15 dirk wounds on his body, and will not survive—a man named Owen Shield, who had a quarrel with Gregory the previous night, has been arrested on suspicion of being the assassim.

Gen. Scott's Quarrels.—The Argus seems very mixious to have the world know with whom Gen. Scott has "quarreled." While its hand was in, it should have told its readers whose quarrels Gen. Scott has extled. There was a "quarrel." once, between England and the United States,—No man was no more efficient than Gen. Scott in settling that "quarrel." There was as "quarrel," ar "quarrel" threatened between our Government and the Cherokees. He settled that quarrel promptive, wisely and humanely. There was a "quarrel with South Carolina. Gen. Scott amicably adjusted that "quarrel" also with Black Hawk. That, also, was settled. The Argus may also have heard of the "quarrel" with South Carolina. Gen. Scott amicably adjusted that "quarrel." as he also did the "quarrel" our North-Eastern and Canada borders; and last, though not least, by his skill and courage, he sertled our recent "quarrel with Moxico.

For every personnl "quarrel" the Argus can prova Gen. Scott to have instigated, we will agree to prove a national "quarrel" in which were member Gen. Pierce to have been engaged were inia quarrels" of the war of 1812, and the vonerable Widow of the lamented Gen. Harrison.—Evening Jour.

DECISIONS UPON THE LIQUOR LAW.-The Suprem Decemos cross the Ligion Law.—The Supreme Court of Maine have decided that the inhabitants of that State may keep liquor in their houses for their own use, and that inquer may be brought into and transported within or through the State, if it be not intended for sale. The amount of the decision seems to be, that the Legislature may prohibit the sale, or keeping, or offering for sale, of liquor, but cannot prohibit its use. This decision makes the law analogous to the laws concerning other toisons.
